

SPE-GCS and the Young Professionals committee invite you to submit an abstract to be considered for poster presentation at:

SPE Young Professionals
2010 Emerging Engineers Conference
“Riding the Energy Roller Coaster: Challenges, Innovations & Opportunities”

You still have time to submit an abstract for EEC poster session! Share your case histories and contributions with other young professionals. Please submit a one page abstract of a project that you did or have made significant contribution. The technical content could be of any material in conformance to the event theme including but not limited to emerging technologies, case studies and innovative methods. Please include your company, years of experience in the O&G industry, and contact information. Qualifying finalists will be notified by May 10, 2010. Finalists must be able to present their posters on June 03, 2010 at the EEC conference at Hilton Westchase, Houston. Final judging will be based on your poster presentation on the day of the event.

The Emerging Engineers Conference (EEC) is a one day event focusing on various topics that aims to shape and develop the careers of Young Professionals (YPs). Register now at <http://www.spegcs.org/en/cev/1715>

Keynote Speakers: Dr. Ganesh Thakur, Vice President, Global Advisor for Reservoir Management, and Fellow of Chevron Energy Technology Co, also nominee for 2012 SPE President, and Jim Longbottom, Global Business Development and Marketing Manager for Halliburton Completion Tools. Other presenters will include executives and senior professionals from an array of energy companies and related organizations – including Occidental Oil & Gas, Chevron, Decision Strategies, Halliburton, Petroskills, and others.

Submit your ideas by May 5th, 2010

Why submit a paper proposal for consideration?

If selected, you can
